Reactive color glaze is a technique admired for its variegated coloring, exhibiting colors of irregular patches. The glaze that creates the coloration underwent a chemical reaction, thus produces a particular pattern and variegation. Due to this finishing technique, variations in glaze and color are to be expected and each piece is subtly one of a kind. For the material, we use fine Bone China, which is durable, thin, lighter and transparency glazing.
Feel the earth, Feel the sky, Feel the sounds from the nature of Narumi Reactive Color Glaze.

WAKU (SHOW PLATE)

Open your palette.
Draw your picture.
WAKU has a frame to make your dish special.

Feel your rhythm.
Find your harmony.
WAKU has a variety of shapes for your creativity.

The idea of WAKU came to our designer's mind through inspirations of framed windows and doorways of gardens at 14-17th century in China. The designer featured window frames to be the design of the plate rim. WAKU is all about this special rim on plate.

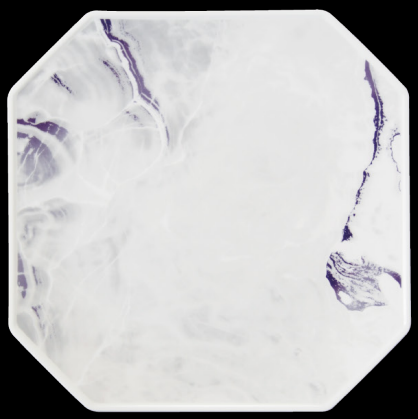

Furthermore, WAKU consists of the iconic shapes of octagon and circle. Octagon symbolizes good fortune and growth whereas circle symbolizes eternity and infinity according to the philosophy in Chinese culture. You have a choice to make your own setting, Octagon or Circle or mixing and matching Octagon and Circle.

Narumi linked the framing with different shapes to make it more contemporary. Whichever you choose Octagon,Circle or both of them, the presentation of WAKU will surely provide amazing dining moment.

Production Process

THE STANDARD MANUFACTURING PROCESS OF BONE CHINA ENTAILS THE FOLLOWING STAGES. EACH STAGE IS HANDLED WITH HIGHLY SKILLED CRAFTSMANSHIP TO ENSURE THE FINEST QUALITY.

(1) MIXING:

The body mixture is made with bone ash, feldspar, quartz, kaolin, and ball clay. Among all of the ingredients, bone ash (more than 45% of the mixture) is the key ingredient that enhances whiteness and translucency of Bone China.

(2) FORMING:

Forming methods vary depending upon the shapes. Regular round pieces like plates and bowls are generally formed on jiggers, and irregular pieces such as pots and gravy boats are cast in plaster molds. Oval, square and rectangular pieces, moreover, are cast in two-parted plaster molds to stabilize the shapes. The formed bodies, now called "greenware", are left to dry and are finished with water sponging to gently remove scratches and scars from the surfaces.

(3) FIRST FIRING (BISCUIT):

Bone China's first firing, called 'Biscuit', is carried out at a temperature of around 1,200 to 1,300 degrees centigrade in the oxidizing atmosphere. This process vitrifies the green-wares and makes them durable, white, and translucent. However, in order to achieve the best results within this specific temperature range, the firing schedule must be carefully controlled. Also, up to 20% shrinkage of the greenware occurs at this stage and is apt to cause deformation and cracking. In order to overcome this, most pieces are placed on refractory setters, called 'cranks', to let them follow the profiles of the setters.

(4) GLAZING:

Bone China's glaze is a mixture of frit and kaolin.
Because the biscuit (the greenware after first-fired) is nonabsorbent, the glaze needs to be applied by spraying.

(5) SECOND FIRING (GLOST):

The glaze-coated biscuits are set in the saggers in order to avoid direct exposure to flames. The saggers are piled up on kiln cars and sent into a tunnel kiln. When the temperature is between 1,000 to 1,200 degrees centigrade, the glaze melts and fuses onto the biscuits. All glostwares coming out of the kiln are strictly inspected.

(6) DECORATING:

Bone China's standard decorating methods are spraying, decal transferring, gold/platinum finishing and hand painting. After the decoration, pieces are fired at 700 to 800 degrees centigrade again to make the pigments fuse into the glaze-coatings. Among the men-tioned decorating methods, hand-painting is applied only by proficient artisans.
Also, gold or platinum finishing is hand-blushed onto the pieces by well-skilled artisans.
Narumi Bone China, a true work of art, art of clay and fire, is created by advanced techno-logy and warmth of human hands in a carefully controlled system. The plant is filled with silent enthusiasm which turns material into high quality products through the processes from precise molding to careful painting.

Narumi is always aiming to give people wonderful opportunities to enjoy splendid tableware that can make their lives much delighted.
